RUPTURE BETWEEN FRANCE AND ENGLAND IMPENDS

PREMIER BRIAND STILL FIRM ON SILESIAN STAND

Replies To Warning Of Lloyd George Over Trouble

ALLIANCE AT STAKE

French Press Bitterly Attacks Premier Of Great Britain.

Paris, May 19.—A bitter attack was launched against the Briand government as soon as the chamber of deputies met this afternoon. It was opened by Andre Tardieu, former French high commissioner, to the United States who fired a series of interpellations regarding Germany indemnity. He assailed the government for permitting M. Dubois, French representative on the reparations commission, to agree to fix Germany's war debt at 132,000,000,000 gold marks.

"The amount fixed as the German debt was wholly inadequate," declared M. Tardieu. "The French government has been making concessions at each successive conference."

Paris, May 19.—"I intend to hold strictly to my point of view," declared Premier Briand today in reply to the new warning issued yesterday by Premier Lloyd George regarding Upper Silesia and France's support of Poland.

The opening of the most important debate in the chamber of deputies since the war found the tension between France and Great Britain acutely increased.

Members of the chamber of deputies openly discussed the possibility of a complete rupture between the two powers—the bulwarks of the European alliance.

"It cannot be concealed that the alliance between France and England now is at stake," says "Pertinax," political editor of the Echo De Paris, and one of the best informed journalists in Europe. "Premier Lloyd George's new statement is more displeasing to France than his first one was. What is the value of the alliance to France if it endangers France's defense?"

"In this matter France places herself strictly upon the treaty of Versailles," said Premier Briand in a statement issued before the chamber of deputies. "There is no other possible basis for discussion. Furthermore, France and England can only converse as equals as Premier Lloyd George himself will admit when the misunderstanding disappears."

Opinion was advanced in parliamentary circles that Lloyd George deliberately put the Franco-British alliance in the balance, believing that Premier Briand would not dare risk a complete rupture because of the situation in Germany and believing that the French prime minister would back down.

Will Not Back Down.
Premier Briand in his statement made it plain that there is no possibility of a backdown on his part. On the contrary he set to work on a formal reply to the British premier which he expected to deliver this afternoon or tomorrow. It was understood that M. Briand would assert that he must hold the national interests of France to be supreme to those of the alliance.

"That is another case of bad humor," said the French premier when correspondents showed him a dispatch from London containing the full text of Lloyd George's statement.

The Echo De Paris denies the statement of the British premier that the American press unanimously supported his views on Upper Silesia and Germany's right to defend that territory if the allies did not do so for Germany.

Violent newspaper attacks against the British premier were printed by the leading newspapers. All emphasized the gravity of the present situation in Europe.

The Journal said it has learned that the British charge d'affaires has insistently demanded of the French foreign office whether France would occupy the Ruhr if German troops enter Upper Silesia. The French foreign office replied that it was impossible to answer such a hypothetical question.

The British representative on the inter allied Rhineland commission has been recalled to London in connection with a recent British note to Paris, regarding the evacuation of Dusseldorf, Ruhrort and Duisburg. By allied troops and the abolition of the customs penalties that were imposed upon Germany about two months ago.

WILL CARPENTIER SMILE LIKE THIS ON WAY HOME?

Thoroughly confident that he will knock out Jack Dempsey when the pair meet in Jersey City, Georges Carpentier, the pride of France, greeted hundreds of his admirers, when he arrived in New York with his famous smile. Georges says he comes here in the best physical and mental condition and abiding confidence, will put up the best fight of his long career.

REGULATION OF GRAIN PLACED IN STATE HOLD

Illinois Senate Passes Bill For Regulating Exchanges.

Chicago, May 19.—Members of the Chicago board of trade were frankly alarmed today as the result of the passage by the Illinois senate yesterday of the Lantz bill which would place the power of regulation of all grain exchanges under the control of a director of agriculture in the cabinet of the governor. The measure is now before the house.

Grain brokers now fear that a second regulative measure which would prevent trading in futures will be passed by the legislature. This bill also drafted by Senator Lantz, is expected to be called up for a test vote in the senate today. If it is passed, brokers declare, the Chicago board of trade will be forced out of business.

Under the Lantz bill, which was passed yesterday the board could continue to operate but would be forced to conform to the rules laid down by the director of agriculture.

Predictions that grains would slump sharply at the opening of the board of trade today were not fulfilled. Wheat showed a drop of one and one half cent for a maximum and the decline in corn and oats was under 1 cent. Declines of this extent are not unusual.

In the event of legislation that might close the local board, the possibility of an exchange being opened at Hammond, Ind., or some other convenient Indiana point has been discussed. Members also have considered the advisability of going to Kansas City, St. Louis, Milwaukee or Minneapolis where warehouse receipts for all grain in Chicago elevators could be made deliverable on any of these exchanges.

MARINE STRIKE NOW NEARER SETTLEMENT

Washington, May 19.—The marine strike appeared to be in process of settlement today.

Secretary of Labor Davis has been authorized by representatives of the seamen, marine engineers and radio operators to proceed as their agent in securing a settlement with the ship owners and the U. S. Shipping board.

TO PREACH MEMORIAL SERMON
The Memorial sermon to the G. A. R., W. R. C., veterans of the Spanish-American war and the American Legion will be preached Sunday, May 29th at 10:30 a. m., at the First Baptist church, by Rev. Albert Read.

BULLETS BREAK SHORT SILENCE IN MINE WAR

Several Hundred Shots Are Fired From Mountain Slopes

NO ONE INJURED

Many War Veterans Answer Call For Volunteers.

Williamson, W. Va., May 19.—Several hundred shots from the mountain slopes at Rawl early today found no human marks but served warning that the attacking forces were ready for action if they got the word to "go to it" from the leaders today. Responding to the call for volunteers 500 citizens, many of them world war veterans, have answered the urgent pleas of Sheriff A. C. Pinson and Captain John Brooks, of the state police. All of the volunteers have been heavily armed with high powered rifles and a large supply of ammunition. Half of the volunteers are from Williamson and the rest from throughout Mingo county.

The better element in the county is bent on restoring order at all costs and putting down lawlessness and the guerrilla warfare with a strong hand, if necessary.

Today was to be the day when a concerted attack at various points on the Tug River front was to be made. But early today no reports of any trouble had been received. The firing at Rawl was the only incident to disturb the peace so far.

At a mass meeting last night at the Mingo county courthouse, Captain Brooks after reporting the seriousness of the situation said:

"I would like everybody who is willing to shoulder a gun tomorrow and go out and do his bit, to arise."

Everybody in the room sprang to their feet and with uplifted hands pledged himself to go out and help restore order.

PRIVATE SERVICES FOR LANE HELD

Chicago, May 19.—The body of Franklin K. Lane, former secretary of the interior who died yesterday at Rochester, Minn., arrived in Chicago today from Rochester, Minn., where death occurred. The body was accompanied by Mrs. Lane, the widow and George W. Lane, a brother.

In accordance with one of Mr. Lane's last requests a private service will be held here and the body cremated. Mr. Lane's ashes will be strewn from Mount El Capitan in Yosemite Park, California.

Arrangements for the service here are not complete.

LECTURES ON PROGRAM
Columbus, May 18.—Eighteen lectures are on this afternoon's program of the convention of the Ohio State Eclectic Medical Society which opens here today. The lectures will deal with the practice of materia medica and therapeutics.

'Spigot Economy' Says Dry Chief of Enforcement

Rev. Perley A. Baker Scores Congress for Failure "To Make Sufficient Appropriation To Carry Out Program Of Volstead Act"

Columbus, May 19.—"Spigot economy," and "bung-hole prodigality" are terms used today by Rev. Perley A. Baker, superintendent of the anti-saloon league of America, criticizing the failure on the part of congress "to make sufficient appropriation to carry out the enforcement program of the Volstead act, and thereby, force the discharge of 700 inspectors."

Supt. Baker declared that congress has made "a most colossal blunder."

"These men have the evidence of thousands of cases," said Baker. "The fines from conviction that would surely be made would turn back into the treasury funds sufficient to run the department for months."

"Most of this evidence will not now be available and guilty men will go free and the government will get no returns from an immense amount of expense and work already paid for."

The Democrats cannot be blamed for "this blunder," said Supt. Baker. "The reason for such a failure, when lawlessness is rampant in this country is difficult to understand," he said.

BURGLARY RESULTS IN DEATH OF MAN; ANOTHER INJURED
Early Morning Robbery Results Fatally In Youngstown.

Youngstown, May 19.—One man is dead and another perhaps fatally wounded as the result of an early morning robbery.

FIGURES IN N. Y. "BUNGALOW MYSTERY"

A country-wide search is being conducted for Arthur Tyler, alias, "Don" Collins, known to the New York police as a gambler and confidence man, who is wanted in connection with the shooting of John E. Reid, wealthy manufacturer, in the home of Mrs. Hazel D. Warner, the Bronx, New York. Mr. Reid is in a critical condition, suffering from five bullet wounds. Collins according to the police was extremely jealous of Mrs. Warner who is separated from her husband. Several months ago according to the police Collins visited the Warner bungalow and in a fit of jealous rage smashed mirrors and wrecked furniture. Reid, say the police had replaced Collins in the affections of Mrs. Warner. Mrs. Warner has disappeared since the shooting and the police have had no trace of her. The Warner bungalow, which represents an investment of $50,000 and is luxuriously furnished is being guarded by the police and Mr. George Kruger, an uncle of Mrs. Warner.

Chief Justice White Dies Early Thursday Morning

Failure To Rally From Sinking Spell Following Operation Causes Death Of Eminent Jurist—Worked Up To Last Minute On Cases.

Washington, May 19.—Edward Douglas White, chief justice of the United States supreme court, died at Garfield hospital here at 2 o'clock this morning.

Death came after a valiant struggle by the aged jurist against complications which set in following an operation for bladder trouble last Friday.

At the bedside when the chief justice passed on were Mrs. White and close relatives.

Close by the bedside there stood a pile of briefs of cases before the United States supreme court. The great American jurist had devoted his time during his illness to the justice who was in his 76th year, was performed last Friday there had been confidence of his recovery until Tuesday afternoon. At that time he suffered a sinking spell and lapsed into unconsciousness and physicians then stated that the condition of his heart indicated that he could not recover.

Associate Justices of the supreme court were with the chief justice almost constantly until a few hours before his death.

Since 1910 when he was appointed to the highest judicial office in the land by President Taft, Edward Douglas White, has presided over the high court with a stern devotion to duty and strict sense of the great responsibilities of his office. He had a reputation of being one of the most earnest workers that has ever held that high position and his defenses of the rights and prerogatives of the court are well known.

Although his position forced him to lead a life of semi-seclusion the chief justice was of a hearty and friendly nature and his close friends were many. He has long been a familiar sight on the streets of the national capital for as long as his health permitted he walked to and from his office and exercised frequently. He was born in the Parish of Louisiana, Nov. 3, 1845, and received his early education in Catholic institutions later attending school at Mount St. Marys, Emmitsburg, Md., and taking his degree at Georgetown university in Washington.

Mr. White first came before the nation in 1891 when he entered a senatorial contest in Louisiana. He fought a vigorous battle for the anti-lottery movement in his home state and was appointed to the senate of the United States by the legislature of Louisiana.

President Cleveland in 1894 appointed Senator White to the supreme court, a representative of the south and filling a vacancy which custom had always held to be the place of a resident of New York.

U.S. ATTITUDE IN DOUBT ON SILESIAN QUESTION

FRENCH PREMIER MAY BE DEFEATED

London, May 19.—The forecast was made in British official circles today that Premier Briand would be defeated in the French chamber of deputies and that his government would fail to get a vote of confidence upon its general foreign policy.

BIG OFFICE OF CHIEF JUSTICE STANDS VACANT

For First Time In Eleven Years Chair Is Vacant.

Washington, May 19.—For the first time in eleven years the great office of the chief justiceship of the United States supreme court stood vacant today.

The death of Edward Douglas White, the venerable chief who has presided over the court since 1911, brought to the surface today the undercurrent of talk and speculation that has been going on in Washington for weeks as to his possible successor.

The name most frequently heard in connection with the succession is that of William Howard Taft, who as president in 1910, elevated Justice White to the chiefship. Long before the death of the venerable justice, it was widely reported that he had intended resigning in order to pave the way for the appointment of Mr. Taft, who had so signally honored him in 1910.

Whether these reports were true probably will never be known. Friends of the former president have represented him as being desirous of the bench appointment. The former president has had a long and distinguished legal career, as well as a political career and there is no public office to which he can aspire with the dignity that becomes an ex-president, except that of the bench. Close friends of the former president are authority for the statement, that, tired of the game of partisan politics and having nothing to look forward to, Mr. Taft is now willing to retire to the quiet dignity of the bench in view from that secluded sanctuary the years that remain to him.

AUTHORITIES DETAIN MEMBERS OF GANG

Cleveland, May 19.—Five alleged members of an organized black hand society—four men and one woman—are being held here suspected of attempting to dynamite the home of Vito Leanzo, 3757 East 144th street. The porch and windows of Leanzo's home were damaged but his wife and family were uninjured.

In the investigation after the explosion, police found a large quantity of dynamite, two bombs and several home made daggers upon the premises of the suspects. It was also learned that for some months past Leanzo had been receiving threatening letters, demanding from one to two thousand dollars. His dog had been poisoned and was found dead in his yard.

ASKS AUTHORITY TO PURCHASE RAIL STOCK

Washington, May 19.—The Pennsylvania railroad company today asked the interstate commerce commission for authority to purchase from the Pennsylvania company the stock of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railway company, amounting to $24,000,000 and to assume the liabilities of the Pennsylvania company which has issued $33,239,000 of its guaranteed trust certificates secured by the deposit of the stock. The Pennsylvania railroad company agreed to pay the Pennsylvania company $761,000 in cash that being the difference between the certificates and the stock.

HARDING DESIROUS OF SEPARATE PEACE

Washington, May 19.—President Harding today informed Rep. Porter, chairman of the house foreign relations committee that he was desirous of seeing a congressional peace resolution passed "within a reasonable time."

The president also told Porter that he did not desire to interfere with "legislative prerogatives" and would not act as arbitrator between the house and senate over whether the Knox or Porter resolutions prevail.

HARVEY TO SIT IN MEETING OF ALLIED COUNCIL

Reports Current That Ambassador Will Participate

PREMIER BACKED UP

Lloyd George Receives Support Generally f British Press.

London, May 19.—Despite Secretary of State Hughes' statement to the Polish envoy at Washington that the United States will not become involved in the Upper Silesian territorial dispute, reports were current in semi-official circles today that George Harvey, American ambassador to England, has been instructed by his government to participate in the meeting of the inter-allied supreme council at which a decision will be taken on Upper Silesia.

It is known that Earl Curzon, British foreign secretary, has been urging Colonel Harvey to take part in the meeting and thus give the weight of American influence to any decision that is reached. Neither the foreign office nor the United States embassy would discuss the reports that Colonel Harvey has been instructed to sit with the supreme council.

It was stated on the best of authority today that M. Berthelot, chief of the French foreign office, has informed the British foreign office that France cannot agree to any fixed date for the supreme council meeting until next Monday.

While it is admitted that the strained relations between England and France have been brought dangerously near to the breaking point by the truculent warning of Premier Lloyd George, the premier's statement was generally approved by the press. An exception was the Morning Post which charged Lloyd George with "smashing the entente." The Morning Post described the Lloyd George statement as "truculent and offensive." It accused the British prime minister of "going behind the backs of his colleagues."

More Judicious.
The Times expressed the opinion that it might have been more judicious for the premier to have waited until after the debate this afternoon in the French chamber of deputies which is expected to culminate in a vote upon the policy of Premier Briand.

The Daily Telegraph emphasized the importance of the issues involved in the dispute and said that the country would agree with Lloyd George and support him.

"The premier begins to see that he is angry," commented the Daily Herald, organ of the British Labor party. "Sometimes," added the Daily Herald, "such things are the beginning of real wisdom."

The Daily News took the attitude that Lloyd George has abundant provocation for his attack upon the French press and for his warning to both France and Poland.

"It was a bolt from the blue; the country was taken by surprise," said the Daily News. The diplomatic cor- dis of the Daily News in discussing the American attitude towards the Upper Silesian issue said:

"It is hard to conceive a question more directly concerning the United States than a settlement involving the peace and security and productivity of all central Europe. But America's voice is as good as her vote. If she will announce her policy and give her advice, non participation in the supreme council meeting would not mean so much."

GOVERNOR HONORS ROTARY CLUB AS BILL IS SIGNED

Crippled Children Are Beneficiaries Under Provisions of Act.

Columbus, May 19.—"The people have the rotary clubs, and not me, to thank for this day. It is one of the most gratifying acts of my life to sign this measure," Gov. Davis told the group of crippled children and leaders of Ohio Rotary Clubs, who witnessed him sign the bill, introduced by Senator J. F. Burke, of Elyria, Republican, providing for proper physical, mental, medical, or surgical treatment of dependent, defective or delinquent children, and providing for payment of traveling expenses of such children by the board of state charities.

Representing the crippled children benefited by the measure, Agnes Bogus, 14, also a cripple, of St. Vincents' orphanage, Columbus, thanked the governor for approving the measure.

Those present included Samuel H. Squire, Elyria, Governor of the state organization of Rotary clubs and Edgar F. Allen, Elyria.

FROM BOOTBLACK TO MAYOR IS HISTORY OF NOTED SPEAKER

From bootblack to mayor sounds like a story by Horatio Alger or a chapter from Arabian Nights. This is the synopsis of the message to be delivered by Hon. Darius A. Brown, a former mayor of Kansas City, Mo., at the Opera House in Xenia, Thursday evening, under the auspices of the Loyal Order of Moose.

Hon. Darius A. Brown, who accomplished what others say is impossible when he rose from bootblack to mayor of Kansas City is as qualified as any one to deliver the message. "The Men and Women of Tomorrow," as no one had a harder task to climb higher to reach the maximum of his possibilities.

Mr. Brown is doing a great piece of work as leader of the Loyal Order of Moose, who through their giving four cents a week created a fund of millions with which the city of Moosheart, Illinois, was built and maintained and where 966 children of deceased members of the Moose, are given a home, cared for, trained, educated and taught a useful trade. It costs $700 a year to care for a child at Moosheart.

The Loyal Order of Moose with a membership of nearly 600,000 men is more than a fraternity. Moosheart has scrapped all the old traditions that usually surround the old time traditions of the orphan's home. The one thought that dominates the souls of the members of the Moose and those there is to give a square deal and a fair chance to childhood.

Mr. Brown is making a nationwide tour and speaks from the church pulpits before Rotary and Kiwanis clubs, and other organizations where red-blooded men and women can be reached. It is because of his reception in the recognized bodies that his presence in Xenia will be well received.

PLEDGES TO SWELL FUND TO $175,000

The fund being collected for Antioch College in Dayton, had reached $76,408 when the campaign workers reported at noon Wednesday.

This represents about one-fourth of the money pledged, and which has not yet been collected, but which is expected to swell the fund to at least $175,000. The workers will continue until all of the pledges have been collected.

The workers set a goal of $200,000 the money to be added to a fund to be collected from the Miami Valley and another sum from the Rockefeller foundation to endow Antioch and supply new buildings and equipment.

REAL ESTATE DEALS ARE TRANSACTED

Three important real estate transactions have been made recently by the Long and Marshall, Real Estate and Securities Company. The first deal made was that of the fifty-acre farm of F. M. Burrell on the Lower Bellbrook pike to W. A. McCall. Mr. McCall has recently sold his home in Mahoning county, and will move to his new home about the first of September. Mr. Burrell, who is a salesman for the Ford Agency in this city, will make his home in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Snider have sold their home on North King street, to Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Bradfute, who will make their future home in this city. Mr. and Mrs. Snider have not decided as to where they will locate.

The third transaction was that of the double dwelling house, owned by J. P. Chew, which has been sold to J. B. Waddie, grocer of this city, who will occupy it as a residence.

CRAZED FAMINE VICTIMS EAT ROCKS

The most amazing condition yet reported in connection with the great famine—the actual eating of rocks dug out of the hills by hunger-crazed people—is reported by a squad of four relief workers who have just returned from a remote district in Chihli.

Everything edible having been consumed in this district, with every form of plant life devoured, some of the starving discovered in the hills some rock which crumbled readily when ground underfoot. This they immediately began to hack out of the ledges in large slabs, reduce it to powder, mix water with it and eat it.

The effect upon the rock eaters is that of a sedative. It stills the pains of hunger and induces quietness, in some cases sleep. At first it was suspected that through some chemical action there might be a form of stimulation derived from the pulverized stone, so marked was the effect of this fare. Physicians, however, say that the temporary relief is due solely to the presence of a larger amount of material in the stomach than usual, which quiets the nerves and induces a better mental condition.

This rock is of a gray color and mixes up into a soft, velvety paste. The continued use of this as food, however, is in every case fatal, whether due to the stone itself or the advanced starvation of the users.

OHIO IS IN BETTER POSITION AS TO FARM MARKETS

Cleveland, May 19.—Ohio farmers, hit by the slump in the prices of farm products, nevertheless are more favorably situated than those of many others, in none respect at least, the proximity of markets. There is a second advantage to the Ohio agriculturist and that is the diversity of products grown. These facts were brought out at the meeting here of the eighth annual session of the foreign trade council committee.

The markets to which Ohio is relatively closer than other states, it is pointed out and emphasized by the federation, are such as to provide an outlet for the larger portion of Ohio farm products without necessity of paying a heavy toll to the railroads for movement to outside markets, as for instance, would be the case of Kansas and other states further west. The high freight rates, it is found, have in many cases resulted in higher prices for Ohio grown materials, especially for such bulky products as hay and potatoes.

"MYSTERY STILL" FOUND
Louisville, Ky., May 19.—Jefferson county's "mystery still" said to have been in operation for the last year, was run to earth and confiscated by a county patrolman who found it hidden in a thicket near the rifle range at Camp Zachary Taylor. The still has a capacity of 50 gallons and is an eight burner affair operated with gasoline.

GEORGE BURNETT TO RESIGN

Columbus, O., May 19.—After serving for 10 years as commandant of the Ohio Soldiers and Sailors home at Sardsky, General W. R. Burnett, is to resign not later than July 1, according to information received by members of the state board of administration.

SOCIETY

ANNOUNCE MARRIAGE IN INDIANAPOLIS.

The many friends of Miss Mary Mannington formerly of this city, are surprised in learning of her marriage to John Cooper, which took place in Indianapolis some weeks ago. Mr. and Mrs. Cooper left by motor at that time for Los Angeles, California, where they are making their home. Mrs. Cooper is the granddaughter of L. H. Atkinson of this city.

D. A. R. ENTERTAINED AT ANNUAL MEETING

Mrs. H. H. Eavey and Mrs. Nelle E. Schuster were hostesses to the members of the Catherine Greene Chapter of the Daughters of American Revolution, at the annual meeting of the Chapter held at their home on Wednesday afternoon.

The principal feature of the afternoon were the reports of the thirtieth Continental Congress recently held at Washington, D. C., to which Mrs. William McGervey, state secretary, was a delegate from the Catherine Greene Chapter.

Mrs. William Wilson, State Regent, gave a short talk upon the Congress following the report by Mrs. McGervey.

The former officers of the Chapter, who have held their offices during the past year, were re-elected at the meeting Wednesday, with the exception of Mrs. J. Kenneth Williamson, the Chapter's treasurer, who resigned her office. Mrs. Elbert Babb was elected to fill Mrs. Williamson's office. The other officers of the Chapter are: Regent, Mrs. Robert S. Kingsbury; Vice-Regent, Mrs. S. O. Hale; Secretary, Miss Sara Bell Williams; Historian, Mrs. Diver Belden; Registrar, Mrs. George C. Tiffany.

The annual reports of the officers were given at the meeting. An interesting fact in the report of treasurer, Mrs. Williamson, was that $1,400 dollars had passed through that office during the year.

Four members of the Chapter were installed during the afternoon. They were Mrs. V. F. Brown, Mrs. M. W. Monroe, Mrs. Laura LeSourd Alexander and Mrs. Rachel J. Kelly.

Plans were made at the meeting for a picnic of the members of the Chapter, which will be held on June 14, at the home of Mrs. H. H. Cherry on the Federal Pike.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses at the close of the meeting. Assisting Mrs. Eavey and Mrs. Schuster were Mrs. H. S. LeSourd and Mrs. W. A. Galloway.

WEEK OF SCHOOL EXERCISES WILL CLOSE ON FRIDAY

Commencement week exercises at the Beavercreek school, which have been of an unusually high character, will close, Friday, when the eighth grade commencement and the Mass Day exercises will be held on the high school campus.

The high school commencement exercises began last Sunday, when an audience that crowded the Knights of Pythias Hall in Alpha listened to a masterly baccalaureate sermon delivered by the Rev. Albert Read, pastor of the First Baptist church of this city. Several anthems were rendered by the school, the music being in charge of the music leader, W. P. Sayrs.

The class play, a comedy entitled "Professor Pepp," was given both Monday and Tuesday nights, every seat being occupied for both performances. The cast was well chosen and well directed by Miss Letitia Diller, court of this city, the English teacher, and the young actors themselves like professionals.

The commencement exercises were held Wednesday night, Dr. O. T. Corson, of Oxford, delivering the commencement address. County Superintendent H. C. Aultman, presented the diplomas to the fifteen young people who graduated.

BEGINS FIGHT TO CUST SUNDAY MOVIES

Springfield, May 19.—The Clark County Ministerial Association, began its fight to eliminate Sunday motion picture shows, Wednesday, when J. B. McConnell, allegedly acting for the association, filed charge against George Settos, manager of the Hippodrome theater, for operating a show on Sunday May 8.

According to Attorney C. S. Olinger, affidavits containing similar charges will be filed against other motion picture managers by other citizens in the near future. Mr. Olinger says he has been employed by the Rev. Robert Bruce Smith, chairman of the Ministerial Association committee on Sabbath observance. Attorney Frank M. Krapp representing Settos, said the case will be fought to a conclusion by theater men.

MELLON IN FAVOR OF FARMER AID

Washington, May 19.—Recognizing that the farmers are facing a financial crisis, Secretary of the Treasury Mellon said today that he favors legislation which permits extension of time on farm paper for rediscunt at federal reserve banks and which will provide more liberal farm credits.

Recent lowering of rediscount rates will not provide the aid needed by the farmers, the secretary said. The funds of the federal reserve banks will be sufficient to meet the financial demands and that it will be unnecessary to deposit government funds in crop centers.

BIG CONTEST FOR GAZETTE AND REPUBLICAN READERS STARTS ON 12-WEEK COURSE TODAY

The readers of the Gazette and Republican will remember a feature these papers operated some two or three years ago, known as "The Missing Contest." To say the least it was one of the greatest successes of anything that was ever run. It attracted thousands of people attention all over county, and many have been the requests to have it repeated. The Gazette and Republican always alert for something new, have brought forth another similar feature, which is new by the way and no doubt will attract still more interest. We have no hesitancy in saying it will be welcomed by all. It is therefore explained in full. Read every word carefully of this article before you turn to the feature, then you will be posted.

ERECT MONUMENT TO YOUNG SOLDIER KILLED IN SERVICE

Edgar Van Kirk Post, of the American Legion at Yellow Springs, is having a monument erected to Clarence "Tax" Smedley, of Yellow Springs, youngest soldier from Greene County killed in action in the world war.

The monument is a gate post to Glen Forest Cemetery, and it will be dedicated with befitting exercises of Van Kirk Post, on the afternoon of Memorial Day. Arthur E. Morgan, of Dayton, new president of Antioch College at Yellow Springs who will be the Memorial Day speaker here, will also assist in the dedication exercises it is thought.

"Tax" Smedley was a member of Co. I, of the 148th Infantry, formerly the Third Ohio National Guard unit, but later a part of the famous 37th Division. He saw service at the Dayton flood, and on the border before his outfit went to France, where he was killed at Ypres, when a huge German shell wrecked the building in which he was located.

Fellow members of the company, which was originally a Greene County unit, were witnesses of the death of the plucky little soldier, who was a bugler in his outfit, and Dr. C. H. Denner, Commander of Foody Post, and then a Captain in the Medical Corps, went to give him medical aid, before it was learned that he died instantly.

A bronze tablet with the history of the lad will be erected on the stone gate post to be dedicated in his memory and the Post hopes next year to erect a similar gate post for Edgar Van Kirk, who died of wounds, and for whom the Post was named.

Church memorial services will be held Sunday May 29, at the Presbyterian Church in Yellow Springs and Legion members will attend with others. The services will be at 9:45 o'clock. The Legion members on Memorial Day will meet at 9:15 o'clock in the morning and in the afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

ATTEND CONVENTION OF W. H. M. S. HELD IN JAMESTOWN

Twenty delegates from the First Methodist Church of this city and sixteen from Trinity Methodist Church attended the convention of the Woman's Home Missionary society of the Springfield district, held at the Jamestown Methodist Church, on Wednesday.

The session opened at 10 o'clock in the morning, and was held during the morning and afternoon. Two hundred and eighteen delegates from the district attended the convention.

Mrs. Ladue Layton, of Springfield, district president, presided at the convention, with Mrs. V. F. Brown of this city, recording secretary.

The leading numbers on the program of the session were the addresses of Mrs. W. H. C. Goode, the conference president, who gave a general talk on the future work of the missionary society, and of Mrs. S. L. Winold, of Cincinnati, secretary of the educational department, who gave an entertaining and instructive talk on the "Winding Road to Education."

Several musical numbers were enjoyed by the audience, which included a solo by Mrs. Snider of Springfield, and two numbers by the Jamestown M. E. Choir.

Reports of each department of the society were given at the meeting. Those who attended the session from Trinity Church were Mrs. C. W. Linkhart, Mrs. W. B. Chew, Mrs. Charles Davis, Mrs. Samuel Haines, Mrs. V. F. Brown, Mrs. Frank Bickett, Mrs. John Beatty, Mrs. Frank Bishop, Mrs. George Eckerle, Mrs. J. W. Stevens, Mrs. George Street, Mrs. Harold Owens, Miss Silva Swindler, Mrs. Charles Baber, Miss Effie Norris and Miss Myrtle Bradstreet. Delegates from the First Methodist Church were: Mrs. Frank Keyes, Mrs. George Hudson, Mrs. Harry Whitner, Mrs. G. A. Scott, Mrs. C. L. Spencer, Mrs. D. M. Cosley, Mrs. Otto Hornick, Mrs. M. J. Bebb, Mrs. W. O. Custis, Mrs. Maude Johnston, Mrs. Smith Chambliss, Mrs. George McClain, Mrs. L. A. Parrett, Mrs. Charles Purdon, Mrs. S. O. Hale, Mrs. J. E. Sutton, Mrs. Chan McDaniel, Miss Minnie Hook, Miss Reva Walker and Miss Millie Johnson.

"LONG, DISTANCE, PLEASE" Paris, May 18.—Th long distance telephone has been utilized as an agency of modern diplomacy to ease the tension between France and Great Britain over Upper Silesia, it was revealed today by the Echo de Paris.

Premier Briand and Premier Lloyd George have already exchanged satisfactory telephone conversations on the Upper Silesian issue, said the Echo de Paris.

educational misspelled word and slogan contest. We question whether any other paper in the state has ever used any better system to get the greatest number of people to study every word of a merchant's advertisement.

A campaign of Ad reading, such as this, has been launched with the expressed purpose of educating the various members of the family to read and study advertisements, as well as to the writing of original slogans or mottoes for stores. At the same time the feature tests the ability of thousands to good and accurate spelling. Could there be anything better for a store, or for the individual? If so, we would like to hear about it.

THE EXPLANATION. Today two full pages of four, eight and 12 inch display ads, appear on pages 4 and 5. These are of the merchants of Xenia, who cheerfully took space in the feature. More of the local merchants could have been secured, but were not in when canvass was made. But we did our best to see all. These two pages of ads will appear every Wednesday, only, after this week for the next 12 weeks.

A set of rules governing the feature may be found in the center of the first page of ads, which must be read carefully and adhered to. The return answer blank, which you are to fill in when the family is sure it has found the misspelled word, and after you have prepared your slogan, is also in the center of the page.

Now in three of the ads on the pages there have been three words misspelled intentionally by the Contest Editor. The rules will tell you the "one" to locate or assist you to locate these words. To get them, read every ad carefully, and do not fill out your answer blank until each member of the family has found the same word. So take your time as you have five days to locate them, prepare your slogans and get your answer in. (See Rules). But one answer from one family is allowed each, and no employee or the respective family of the employees of this office will be permitted to enter, so no matter where you are, send in your answer.

Each week you will have three different misspelled words; hence you send an answer in each week for 12 consecutive weeks. Webster's dictionary has been selected as the book for the proper spelling of the words so be careful what dictionary you use. If you should happen to miss several words do not get discouraged, but forge right ahead, as there are quite a number of awards.

EXPLANATION OF THE SLOGAN

No doubt there are some who do not know what a slogan is—well a slogan is a "motto." For instance: The National Biscuit Company has a slogan, and you surely must have seen it. Their slogan is "Uneeda Biscuit." Let us further explain. Suppose the word we have intentionally misspelled in one ad, is in a Bank's Ad. Aside from locating the misspelled word and properly spelling and placing it, you would have to prepare a slogan for the bank. A slogan you could write for example would be thus: "THE BANK THAT SPELLS STRENGTH." All slogans must be original, and not more than five words. Then the other misspelled word may be misspelled in a grocery ad. A sample slogan for such a store would be: "The Store of Pure Foods," or "Buy Here and Save Money." Now you understand—so it goes each week.

We feel quite sure that you would like it to be said of you. I prepared that slogan the bank is using or the slogan which Mr. So and So is using. You see the slogan will be turned over to the merchants and doubtless they will use your slogan in all of their ads as well as put it on their stationery.

No one will know who the winners are until the close, when checks will be sent out to winners and you may not pictures of the winners in the paper then. Now away you all go and let us see what kind of good spellers and slogan writers you are.

TO THE MERCHANTS.

All merchants who have ads in our contest are asked to take advantage of changing their ads each week. Be sure to get your copy in not later than Monday noon. If you need our help in the preparation of your ad, just call The Gazette office, and we will be only too glad to call and get your copy or assist you any way we can. Each merchant will surely get his money's worth.

If there is anything about the feature you do not understand, be free to call the Contest Editor at the Gazette office. Bell 10, Citizens 2 on 111.

COURT NEWS

Says Defendants Seized Land

John Q. A. Baker is plaintiff in an action against R. W. Hough and Arnetta Hough for ejectment injunction and damages in the sum of $100, filed with Clerk of Courts C. S. Johnson Wednesday.

The petition involves a strip of land in Jamestown, which the plaintiff claims he is entitled to and which adjoins property owned by the defendants. The plaintiff asserts since April 16, 1921, the defendants have unlawfully kept the plaintiff out of the possession of that land, have built a fence around it and have plowed and cultivated it. He asks a judgment and for a mandatory injunction requiring the defendants to move the fence.

For a second cause of action, the plaintiff charges the defendants with tearing down five or six rods of fence belonging to him and converting it to their own use, and damaging the property to the extent of $100. He prays for a judgment and mandatory injunction to make the defendants move the new fence and also for judgment, for injury and destruction which he alleges he has suffered in the sum of $100. Judge Marcus Shoup is attorney for the plaintiff.

Asks For Receiver. M. L. Fred seeks to dissolve a partnership in his petition against George W. Miller, filed with Clerk of Courts C. S. Johnson, Wednesday by Attorney Miller and Finney, representing the plaintiff in the action.

The plaintiff asserts he owns an 87-acre farm in Beavercreek township, on which the defendant has been residing under an agreement made in March, 1920. The petition states that the agreement provides for a partnership or joint control of 14 head of cattle, 65 head of hogs, seven horses, and also farming tools and equipment with the poultry, hay and grain now on the premises. The defendant is given a part of the house, and the plaintiff the other half, occupying it jointly, according to the petition.

The plaintiff now charges that disputes have arisen concerning the disposition and control of the property and that the defendant interfered with the plaintiff occupying the property such as to make it necessary to terminate the contract. Since the personal property is owned jointly, the petition asks that a receiver be appointed until the case is settled. Termination of the partnership and cancellations of the agreement is also asked.

SAYS ATTEMPT MADE TO ROB HIS STORE

Mrs. Amy B. Laughhead, owner of a Columbus street grocery store reported to police Thursday morning that an attempt had been made to break into her store some time Wednesday night or early Thursday morning. Sid Woolley, former owner of the grocery store, had shot several times at the intruders.

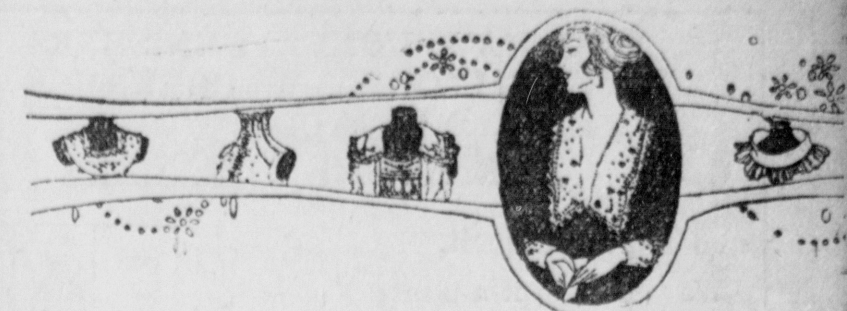

Owing to conflicting stories police are scouting the theory of burglary. No report was made at the time of the occurrence to the Police. It is said the barking of a dog aroused the neighbors and warned them of the attempted burglary.

THE PEOPLE AS CO-OPERATIVE OWNERS IN THE MARVELOUS SCENIC AREAS OF AMERICA.

From the time when, in 1832, four sections of land surrounding the healing Hot Springs in Arkansas were set aside by Congress in a reservation, until, in 1917, the McKinley National Park was created in Alaska, the national-park idea has gained steadily in the minds, and appealed increasingly to the sentiment, of the American people.

Up to 1890, Hot Springs and the Yellowstone were our only national parks. Since 1890 seventeen national parks, aggregating some 4,845,750 acres, have been created by successive acts of Congress. It is true that there were upward of a million visitors to the various national parks last year; but the applications of local irrigation and power interests for easements have come, apparently, as blessings in disguise to acquaint our people generally with the singular beauty and marvelous diversity of the parks which we possess.

How many "average citizens" know that they are part owners in nineteen National Parks covering 10,859 square miles, and in forty-three National Monuments covering 2,552 square miles, each containing unique and picturesque scenery which has been in course of creation for thousands and millions of years or marking the site of some historic achievement of man? How many know that a great park-to-park highway has been designated which, in an irregular circuit of about five thousand miles, passes through nine western States, crosses every main continental highway, and now directly connects eleven National parks, including a variety of scenery to be found nowhere else in the world?

If you have a motor which will turn the wheels of a car, the price of gasoline to feed the engine, a camping outfit, and the very modest amount of cash required for park fees and food en route, you may drive through your country estates and claim every pleasure of ownership.

The National Parks serve the leisure and not the work-time of the American people. Even from a financial standpoint it would be folly to try to mix the motives. It is only by singleness of purpose, by a persistent policy of park operation for park purposes, that the National Parks can ultimately be made self-supporting. Natural scenery unspoiled by hand of man, and unmolested animal and bird life, are the stock in trade of the National Park Service.

As a further earnest of its intention to protect the National Parks, Congress again spoke with authority during the closing days of the recent short session. It passed an act—for which no division was called in either house because the opposition was so negligible—definitely and for all time exempting National Parks and Monuments from the operation of the Federal Power Act.

Congress has shown its inclination. You, who can now make the "grand tour" in a single summer or in many summers, by train and modern hotels or by motor and under your own canvas, may some time find opportunity to do your share to support Congress in its policy, that the National Parks and Monuments shall be preserved inviolate as the greatest single historical, recreational, and spiritual bequest which the American people can pass on to the next generation?

LOCAL PARCEL POST.

The use of the postoffice for the delivery of local parcels as well as local letters is attracting a good deal of attention. Postmasters of several large cities have reported to the postmaster general that the merchants of their communities are considering the matter. The idea is for all the merchants to abolish their individual delivery systems and turn that branch of their business over to the government.

It looks like a logical extension of the parcel post. No doubt a considerable saving could be effected in this way. Chicago merchants have reported that it costs them an average about 30 cents apiece to deliver parcels to their customers. That is unusually high, but it is likely that the most economical delivery service a merchant can maintain nowadays, anywhere, will cost him more than the government would charge.

Not that Uncle Sam is a better business man; but with the private delivery system there is too much duplication and wasted effort. Every merchant has his own personnel and equipment, and every merchant's wagons duplicate and cross the routes of other merchants. The desired efficiency and economy might be effected by a pooling of the delivery business among all the merchants of a community, but that is a difficult thing to organize and manage. The postoffice has the organization and method and is already entered upon this field in a modest way. It is only a question of enlarging its present facilities.

Such extension of service is probably as desirable in small communities as large ones, because in the small town the deliveries extend at considerable distances into the country, and so are expensive when handled individually. Hence in any plans for extending its usefulness in this way, the postoffice department should treat all communities alike.

IMPORTANT THINGS.

A "Business man," writing in Collier's Weekly, suggests that the five most important topics of conversation in this country are as follows:

1. Politics.
2. Religion.
3. Sports.
4. Movies.
5. Money.

The five things that a man most thinks about, he adds, are probably these, in order of importance:

1. His family.
2. His business or job.
3. His health.
4. His recreation.
5. His investments.

Both lists are interesting, and a comparison of the two is interesting. It is not clear whether the first list is meant to cover the five topics really most important, or simply the topics most talked of. In either case it follows that the things men think of most are not the things they talk about most, nor the things really most important.

Neither list would satisfy everybody. It would be highly instructive to have a national symposium on what the majority of Americans actually think about most, talk about most and consider most important. Won't somebody start it?

A tenor drum which belonged to one of the musicians, who came here to play for the Masonic banquet last night disappeared from the office of the Commercial hotel. The theft was reported to the police who

We understand that Xenia Lodge of the I. O. O. F. is intending to change its method of holding memorial services this year. Heretofore, it has been the habit of the Lodge to secure the services of a minister, who preaches the sermon. This year they intend to do away with the minister and proceed to the cemetery and decorate the graves of all the Odd Fellows in Woodland.

AN EDITORIAL ON ADVERTISING

"The whole basis of national progress, of an increased standard of living, of better human relations, indeed of the advancement of civilization, depends on the continuous improvement in productivity," said Herbert Hoover in a recent address at Syracuse.

And Mr. Hoover goes on to say: "The absorption of increased productivity lies in the conversion of luxuries of today into necessities of tomorrow, and to spread those through the whole population by stimulation of habit and education. Wheat bread, railways, good roads, electricity, telephones, telegraphs, automobiles and movies were once luxuries. They are still luxuries to some parts of the population."

The business of advertising is to educate and to stimulate habits which produce increased demand.

In the course of this process, advertising reduces the cost of distribution and effects economies which make it possible to transform the luxuries of yesterday into the necessities of today.

One of the strongest illustrations of the economy of advertising in reducing the cost of distribution and sales by stimulating increased consumption is found in the co-operative campaign of the California Fruit Growers. Their advertising manager describes as follows the results of their advertising, for which more than $1,000,000 was spent last year.

In the twelve years since the first campaign was launched in Iowa the consumption of California oranges has doubled. The American consumer has been taught by co-operative advertising to eat nearly twice as many oranges as before.

The expenditure of 2 1/2 cents a box, or about one-fifth of a cent per dozen, to advertise oranges, did not increase the price.

Had the orange industry remained on the old basis there would have been no profit in growing oranges.

New acreage would not have been planted.

Old orchards would most surely have been uprooted and other crops planted.

Co-operative advertising widened the growers' market.

The cost of selling oranges and lemons through the California Fruit Growers' Exchange is lower today than it was ten years ago.

And the people who have learned what an enjoyable and healthful habit eating oranges is have received a benefit without any additional cost to them.

So it has been with every commodity and luxury, whether it be good foods, better raiment, labor-saving devices for the home, or fine furniture.

You have learned about them

You have bought them upon the advice of advertising.

You have enjoyed them and made them a part of your life through the influence of advertising.

And you have paid less money for greater comfort, because advertising has not only sold them to you, but to millions of others. Increased production, widespread distribution, lower prices—and advertising aids both.

Read advertising every day. It is the surest aid to wise and economical buying. It will benefit you today just as it has benefited you in the past.

Is It Yours?

JOHN WILSON

May 19, 1785

The life of John Wilson is a splendid example of the fact that a man can do anything he wants, if he only must do it.

John Wilson, was a Scotchman, born in the town of Paisley, noted for the wonderful shawls that are woven there. His father was a manufacturer, presumably of some of these very shawls, and he seems to have been very wealthy. Wilson was one of the 10 children, and though his father died when he was a mere child, there was no lack of money for sending him and all his brothers and sisters to school and college.

John Wilson entered the University of Glasgow when he was 12 and studied there for six years. Then he went south to England and entered Oxford. He was still young, of course, and remarkably well educated, and could have been very popular. To the contrary, he seems to have made but few friends, and to have gone through a remarkable number of love affairs, all of them unhappy.

He began studying law. He began writing for the purpose of picking up a little money, acquired a reputation and ended by writing some of the most brilliant essays ever published.

ECONOMICS—AND PRICES.

One important result of the recent great rise and fall of prices is the creation of greater interest in the subject of economics.

Economics is a science. It is the science of men's well-being in the broadest sense. The word "economics" should not be confused with the word "economies" which is something else again.

Why do prices rise and fall? Why do wages increase and decrease?

If you are charged $10 for an article which formerly cost $5 is the dealer profiteering?

While there is such a thing as profiteering, yet many business men have been very erroneously accused because of price increases which were entirely without their control. The law of supply and demand is a vague and puzzling proposition to the great mass of people.

"Inflation," "deflation," too, are words which elude definition in the language of every day. What is prosperity? What are normal conditions? What are fair prices? None of these questions are easy to answer unless the questioner is familiar with the fundamentals of economics.

While commodity prices are constantly fluctuating, the greatest and sharpest disturbance in prices which ever occurred has taken place within the last three or four years. There has been a vague yet very definite resentment on the part of the public. Vague, because no one knew whom to blame. Definite, because severe hardship was inflicted on pocketbooks.

In public libraries there has been a steady increase in demand for books on economics and related subjects. The desire to understand something of the fundamental reasons for recent business events and changes is widespread. This desire is a good thing for the country, because study of the subject makes for breadth and intelligence of outlook and brings about saner and less hysterical moods of thought.

COURT RECORDS OF OVER 100 YEARS AGO BROUGHT TO LIGHT

Jonas Jones, of Sugarcreek township, had the honor of being the first offender brought before the Common Pleas Court in Greene county.

That was in 1809, when Jones was hauled before the court in its January term, with the Hon. Francis Dunlavy, as presiding judge, and Josiah Grover as clerk of courts. Jones was charged by the state of Ohio with committing assault and battery on John Porter in April, 1808, and the case was heard in Common Pleas Court, January 25, 1809.

Jones was fined $3 and costs when he pled guilty to the charge. The second trial conducted in the courts also involved Jones, who was up on a charge of assault on William Pogue, to which he also plead guilty and was fined $1 and costs.

Simon Kenton, pioneer and expert woodsman and Indian fighter, was not above being enmeshed in the courts in his day, as one of the earliest cases was titled Adam Harter against Simon Kenton and William I. Stewart. Harter sought a judgment for $223.34 and got a judgment in full, but the defendants never paid. The Sheriff was ordered to attach the goods and chattels and lands and tenements of Simon Kenton, but found there were none.

Remembrance Williams, long identified with Xenia's early history, was also defendant in a suit for debt, the plaintiff seeking to collect $80 debt and $40 damages from the pioneer woodsman. Harmonious Shook, whose name appears on the pages of the early court records of 1809, belied his name. He was before the judges on a charge of assault and battery which was not entirely in accord with his first name of "Harmonious."

A hint of slave days is continued in one suit, which charges "Kate, a Black Woman," with assault and battery. Clerk of Courts C. S. Johnson, in going over some of the old records several days ago, found an interesting case in which his two uncles, Z. P. Jones and W. D. Gilmore, formerly of Yellow Springs, were plaintiffs against a man named Watson.

The plaintiffs sued to collect a judgment of $3.66 with interest of 5 cents, making the total $3.71. They obtained a judgment in full from the court. The costs of the case amounted to $3.63. The case was heard January 1, 1846.

REALM OF BOOKS

BRIEF REVIEWS OF LITERATURE RECENTLY PLACED ON THE SHELVES OF THE COUNTY LIBRARY.

"THE HOUSE OF LYNCH." Leonard Merrick's latest work is considered to touch on the more serious side of that uncertain plane of existence which we call "Bohemia." The book is not a tragedy—in fact, this story of a self-respecting artist who successfully upholds his independence against the degrading influence of a great and dishonest wealth is too much of a triumph of the human soul to be called tragic—but it shows Mr. Merrick in a sterner mood. And here he compels our respect, where before he may only have commanded admiration or gratitude for pleasure bestowed.

DO YOU KNOW—

- (1) How close we are to war with Japan?
- (2) What are the many and powerful forces pressing us toward war?
- (3) What are the chances of our success if war does come?
- (4) What may be done to prevent war?

If not read "MUST WE FIGHT JAPAN?" by Walter B. Pitkin, Associate Professor of Philosophy, Columbia university. This is an astonishing book, but not a book of propaganda nor sensationalism; it is a result of wide and careful investigation of much calm, close thinking by a man eminently equipped to sift evidence and discover the truth. Briefly, it is a book wherein is collected the facts of the Japanese-American case, with special reference to our Pacific Coast and to Japan's Asiatic neighbors. It sets down the things that point toward

HEALTH FOR WORKING GIRLS

Those Who Suffer and Are Unable to Work Need Helpful Suggestions

Springfield, Ill.—"I had periodic trouble with weakness, cramps and backache and I could not work. A neighbor recommended your medicine and I took four bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I am now strong and well, able to work, and recommend your medicine to my friends."—ANNA RIMKUS, R. R. No. 8, Springfield, Ill.

Why will girls continue to suffer month in and month out as Miss Rimkus did when case after case is related where Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has removed the cause of the trouble and brought good health. For more than forty years this old-fashioned root and herb medicine has been the standard remedy for such ailments, and has the record of having restored more suffering women to health than any other medicine.

If there is any complication about your condition you do not understand write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts, in regard to your health.

a tremendous war with Japan as the result of American and Japanese conflicting interests; and it sets down the things that may prevent a war and force the two countries to find a basis of agreement.

To settle the accumulating differences of the two countries, to defeat the powerful elements in both countries that are straining toward war, is probably the most tremendous and complicated and dangerous problem now facing the American people. It is all the more dangerous to us because its bigness and its closeness are not realized on this side of the Pacific, though in Japan it is the subject of impassioned speeches, editorials and "inspired" news stories.

The author's style is as vivid dramatic and compelling as his subject is threatening.

SAYS HIS PRESCRIPTION HAS POWERFUL INFLUENCE OVER RHEUMATISM

Mr. James H. Allen who suffered for many years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. Sayre & Hemphill have been appointed agents for Allen's in this vicinity with the turn the purchase money to all who state they received no benefit.

A STOLEN GEM FOR A STOLEN HEART

It was her husband's wedding gift, stolen from her own uncle. She knew exposure was scarcely a minute away; even then she could have avoided it. WANT TO HIT THE BALL

There seems to be a lot of uncertainty on the part of my readers as to just where and how the ball ought to be hit under differing circumstances in brassy play. So, let me make these points clear.

If the ball is lying fairly well then the stroke with the brassy is practically the same as it is from the tee. All the player has to do is to skim the turf closely and the loft in the face of the brassy will pick the ball up and give it plenty of height, for distance.

The swing should reach its maximum speed just when it comes into contact with the ball, but many a player spoils his brassy shots in his effort to get too much power into them. He should allow the club to do more of the work for which it is designed. If, however, the ball is cupped the problem is not so simple. This kind of a shot is especially hard for a player who uses too high a tee.

The brassy shot, of course, usually follows a shot from the tee and the difference in height from a ball teed too high and a cupped ball makes the brassy a difficult club for many a player.

In playing a cupped ball the club should come to the ground a half inch or an inch behind the ball. This point should be deliberately aimed at. Then when the club head comes down on that point it will push along the turf and under the ball when they come in contact so that an abundance of loft will be secured.

I have seen many players make poor work of a cupped ball because they show a tendency to try to scoop the ball out of the cup, and the usual result is to smother the club head in the ground, getting little or no distance. It seems to take some players a long time to realize that this effort to dig the balls out doesn't pay. In fact, it almost invariably fails. I believe this tendency goes back very largely to the question of developing a golfing temperament again. A beginner in his effort to make low scores refuses to admit the impossibility of some shots and foolishly attempts the impossible. Beginners will do well not to attempt to tamper with the underlying principles of golf.

If the ball is so badly cupped that the shot cannot be made in the regular way, then it may be a case for iron club play. If a study of the situation shows this, players should proceed accordingly. Experienced players, even on a badly cupped ball,

PHYSICAL TRAINING OFFERED BY U. S.

An opportunity is offered for all male pupils of the high schools of Greene and other counties to take military training for a month (July 21 to August 20) without an expense to themselves, the government sponsoring the plan. A "Citizens' Training Camp" will be established at Camp Knox, Louisville and a month's physical training along the "Plattsburg Idea" lines. The camp under these free conditions is open to youths from 16 to 35 years of age.

Anyone desiring further information may write to the Citizens' Military Training Camp Association or to the commanding general, Fifth Corps Area, Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind.

URGES SCHOOLS OF OHIO HONOR U. S. SOLDIERS THIS YEAR

A suggestion has been sent out from the state office of public instruction to school heads on the observance of Decoration Day (May 30). The appeal for some sort of recognition of the day and event comes too late to affect the rural schools, all of which have been dismissed by that time. The Xenia public schools, however, will still be in session and can co-operate in this matter.

It is asked that the heroes of '61 be honored by the schools with fitting exercises and the Friday previous, May 27, is suggested as a good time. It also suggests that school heads offer the services of the school to co-operate in any way deemed feasible on Decoration Day, in matching in assisting in decoration of graves in the exercises or in any way the committee may deem right and proper.

PYTHIAN SISTERS TO HOLD MEETING

Dayton, May 19—More than 400 women will come to Dayton June 12 and 13 to attend the annual convention of

MAY DELAY CONFERENCE

London, May 19.—It is possible that the meeting of the supreme council to consider the question of Upper Silesia may be postponed a few days beyond the weekend, chiefly due to the shortness of the interval between the assembly today of the French parliament, before which Premier Briand will make an important speech, and the tentative date for the council conference.

FUNERAL SERVICES ARE CONDUCTED

Funeral services for R. M. Charters, whose death took place in Cleveland, were held at the home of his brother, J. Thorb Charters on East Second Street, at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

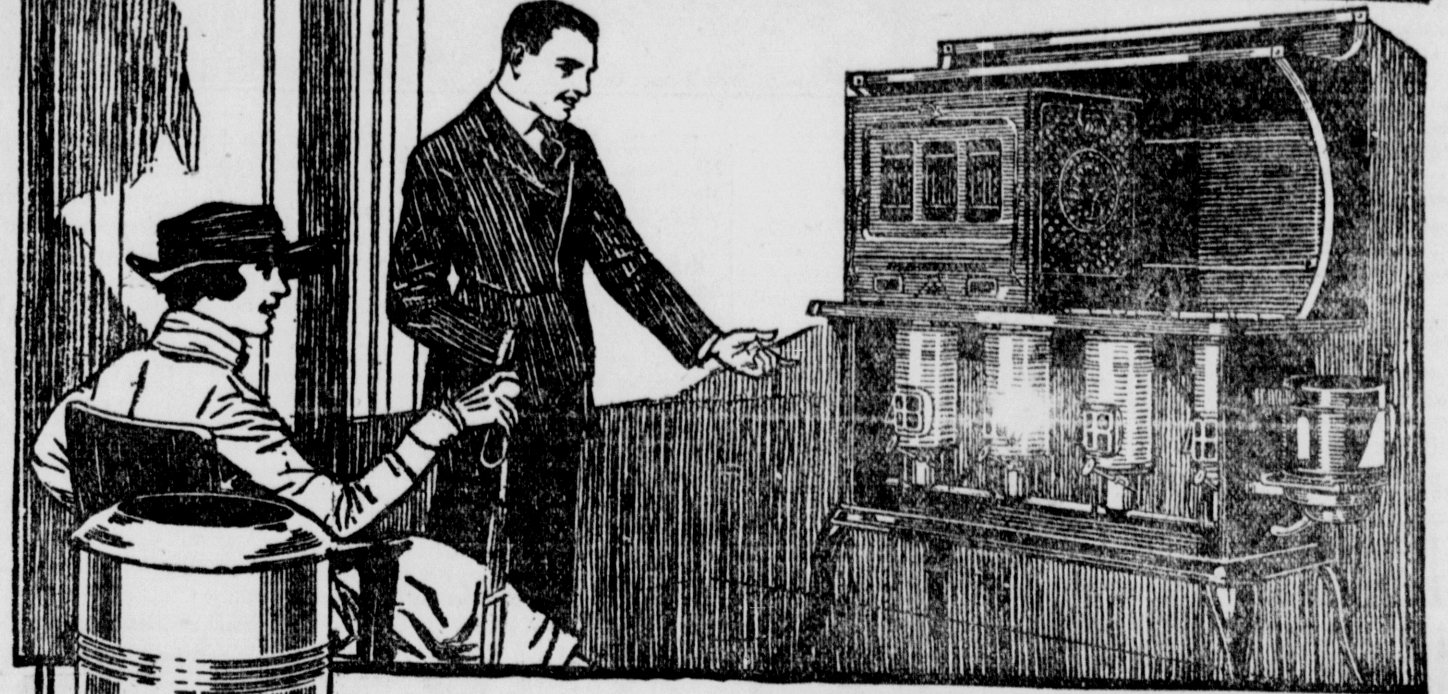

The services were in charge of the Rev. A. J. Kestle, of Findlay, former pastor of the First M. E. Church here and son-in-law of J. Thorb Charters. A delegation of the National Cash Register employees, with which company Mr. Charters was connected in Cleveland attended the services in a body and the pall bearers were selected from their number.

Burial was made in Woodland Cemetery, the pall bearers being R. C. Duvall, F. F. Clifford, William Ostendorf, O. Blackmore, V. Vopalecky and P. V. Shoe.

GENERAL SYNOD OF R. P. CHURCH OPENS MEETING WEDNESDAY

The sessions of the General Synod of the Reformed Presbyterian Church were begun at the R. P. Church in Cedarville, Wednesday night with the opening sermon by the Moderator, the Rev. Ralph S. Elder of Cutler, Illinois.

Immediately after his sermon, the Rev. Elder "constituted the court," a ritual by which the Synod is annually convened by prayer in its ecclesiastical capacity. Dr. Alexander Savage, of Darlington, Pa., made a motion setting the time of the sessions of the Synod which program will be carried out, it is thought, through the week of the Synod.

The first half hour of the session of the Synod Wednesday morning, was given over to the devotionals in which the Rev. Elder led. Rev. Elder is retiring Moderator of the Synod, and the election of a new Moderator of the Synod, and the election of a new Moderator, a stated clerk, and assistant clerk was on the schedule of Thursday's events. The Synod will continue until next Monday.

The proposed campaign to raise $200,000 for Cedarville College, will be discussed by the Synod at the Friday afternoon session. Friday will be a holiday at the College but in the afternoon the student body will attend the Synod in the Church when the plans for the financial campaign will be discussed. Delegates attending the Synod will be present and many of them will be on the speaking program of the community meeting in the interests of the College, which will be held at the Cedarville Opera House, Friday evening.

W. J. Alford, millionaire manufacturer of New York and London, who was invited to the community meeting Friday night, by Dr. W. R. McChesney, president of the College, will not be able to be present at the meeting. Dr. McChesney has received a cablegram from Mr. Alford from London, in which he expresses his regrets at being unable to attend the meeting, but says that he will be home in September and at that time will see the college president in regard to assisting the College. "My interest in Cedarville College still continues," said the cablegram.

Mr. Alford donated the building now known as the Alford Gymnasium, to the College, in memory of his father, the late Dr. John Alford, and those interested in the College hope that he will be able to give further assistance in the campaign for funds to be inaugurated soon.

SHOOTING DENIED BY YOUTHS UNDER ARREST IN XENIA

Joseph Conner, and Harold Brady both who give their ages as 17, and their residence as Pittstown, Pa., and who were arrested by Marshal Al Zeiner in Jamestown, Wednesday following a revolver duel with Patrolmen Wilkins and Simms here, early Wednesday morning have been turned over by the Sheriff to Chief of Police Graham, and are locked up at Police Headquarters.

Brady who says his home is in Pittstown says he was boarding in Wyoming, Pa., before he left home. Both boys, who were brought here from Jamestown by Sheriff and Deputies Birch and Day, claim that they did not have any guns, and that they did not shooting when accosted by the officers.

Sheriff Funderburg wired to Pittstown, Pa., authorities Thursday for information concerning the boys and they are being held pending word from their home town authorities.

BRONCHIAL TROUBLE CAUSED ANXIETY.

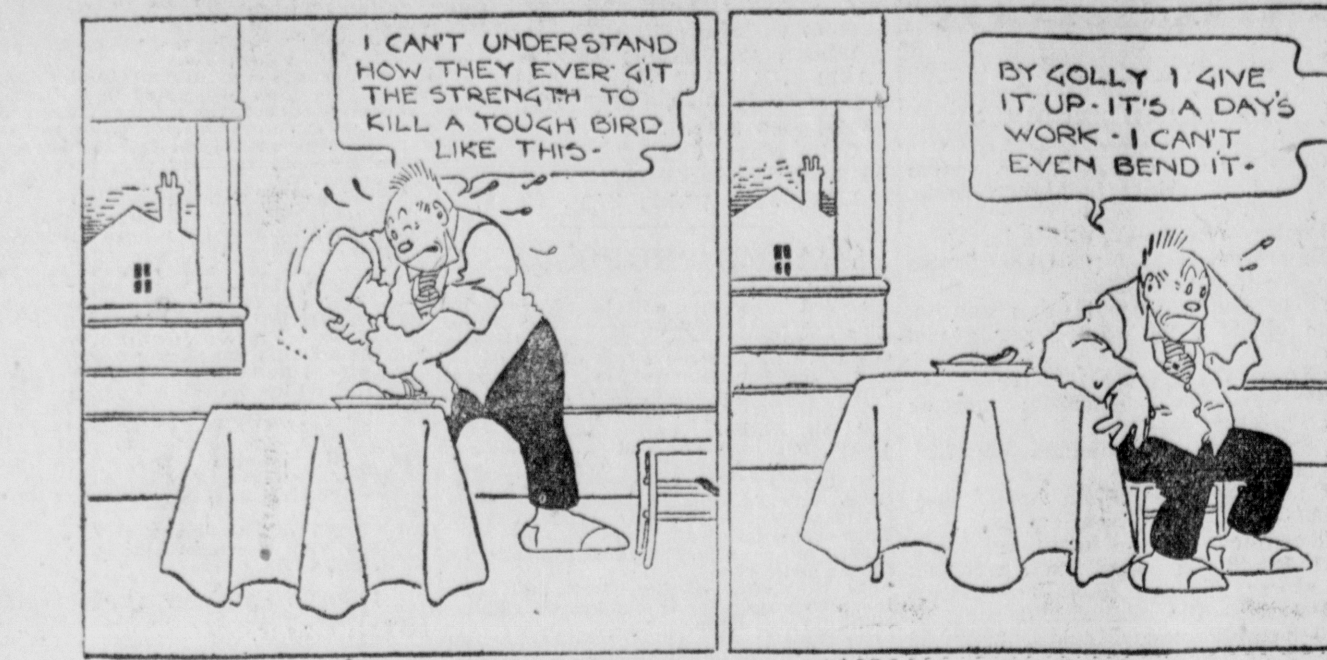

No medicine has a better reputation than Foley's Honey and Tar for quickly relieving coughs, colds and croup. It loosens the phlegm and mucus, clears the passages, eases hoarseness, stops tickling throat, John G. Hekking, 195 Burgess Place, Passaic, N. J., writes: "I was suffering from an acute case of bronchial trouble which gave me considerable anxiety. Foley's Honey and Tar deserves all the credit for my being well now." Sayre & Hemphill. adv

Buy Your Coal Direct From Mine—Big Saving

The high cost of coal is a thing of the past! At least, there are no complaints on this account—since the removal of government restrictions—among those who have learned how to buy coal. The way to buy coal is to get it direct from the mines. This saves several middlemen's profits. It saves hauling expenses. Anyone can now buy at mine prices whether a carload buyer or one who uses only ten or fifteen tons a year. This has been made possible through a plan evolved by a large and old-established concern, THE BERNICE COAL COMPANY, with main offices at 642 Como Building, Chicago.

This company has thousands of customers in various sections of the United States who receive all of their coal direct from the mines. These customers are pleased not only because of the many dollars they save every year, but also because of the quality of coal they are getting. Many write that they never before had coal that makes so little dust, that burns so well, leaving so few ashes. If you are a coal user—whether you use hard or soft coal, much or little—it will be greatly to your advantage to write the Bernice Coal Co., at once for prices, stating kind and quantity of coal you use.

DIVISION ENGINEERS OF OHIO STATE HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT

Division Engineers of the Ohio State Highway Department. Left to Right standing—E. W. Davis, Springfield, who has charge of the division in which Greene county is located; George Schlesinger, of Xenia, who has his headquarters here; R. F. Darrell, of Lima; Harwood Lersch, Elyria; W. G. Smith, Newark; H. J. Kirk, Columbus. Seated—D. W. Seitz, formerly of Ottawa, who has been replaced by J. Perry Shumaker of this city; Elmer Hilty of Findlay, W. C. Fawcett, of Martins Ferry; T. T. Richards, of Ravenna and John W. Graham of Chillicothe. Insert is J. Perry Shumaker.

The task of giving Ohio one of the country's best highway systems, set for this administration by Governor Harry L. Davis, is in the hands of these men.

They are the division representatives of State Highway commissioner Leon C. Herrick, each assigned to one of the eleven different highway districts in the State. It is thought that under this plan, with eleven men on the job, that work can be more efficiently accomplished than under the old plan when the men worked out of Columbus.

J. Perry Shumaker of this city, former city engineer has gone to Ottawa, where he will have charge of six counties, taking the place of D. W. Seitz, who has been put in charge of work on the national road.

ATTEND ROTARY CLUB SERVICES

Charles L. Darlington, John D. Steele, Jr., C. S. Frazer and H. L. Sayre, local Rotarians, attended the installation of the members of the Rotary Club of Washington, C. H., which was recently organized in that city, Wednesday evening. Twenty-five members were installed on that evening, the work being done by the members of the Chillicothe Rotary Club at the Cherry Hotel. Visitors were present at the ceremonies from Cincinnati, Dayton, Piqua, Lebanon, Chillicothe and Xenia.

The Revolt of Vera Sanderson

By JANE PHELPS.

A POMERANIAN CAUSES TROUBLE Chapter 45

I loved animals and one day Keith bought me the cutest little Pomeranian. Margaret was furious.

"He must have meant it for me," she declared. "When my little Toto died he said he would get me another."

"How long ago was that?" I asked hugging the Pom close.

"Just before he married you."

"I don't believe there is any mistake. The card says 'To my dear wife, on our anniversary.' You aren't his wife and it isn't your anniversary."

"Well, he will have to get me one too. It must have cost him something! I am a pretty good judge of Poms and that is a good one."

I made no reply but that night I waited in the dark at the top of the stairs purposely to hear what Margaret would say when Keith came in. I had bought him a lovely set of cuff buttons and had the box in my hand.

"Keith you intended that Pom for me, didn't you?" she asked after she had kissed him.

"Why, no, Margaret. Didn't the card come with it? It is our anniversary, you know. I had intended to give a large party for Vera but Father's death changed all that."

"But have you forgotten that when Toto died you promised me another Pom? I was sure you intended this one for me."

"That was a long time ago, Margaret. You have forgotten that I spoke of getting a dog, and at the time you said to give you the money instead. I think you wanted a gown you felt you could not afford."

"I had forgotten, Keith."

That was all, but I knew from her tone that I should be allowed little if any pleasure in possessing my Pom. I determined that I would keep the little fellow out of her sight as much as possible. But I reckoned without the two girls. Both Irene and Gloria were delighted with him, and insisted upon playing with him much of the time.

But every time the dog barked, or I was with him and making any fuss over him, Margaret found fault said it "got on her nerves," etc. I should have been warned, but was not. I never dreamed that even Margaret would be so cruel, so spiteful.

"Vera will have to get rid of that dog!" Margaret said to Keith one night.

"Why?"

"I can't explain, Keith, but somehow my nerves are in such a condition since Father's death that I can't endure anything that annoys me without feeling really ill. I don't want to be disagreeable, dear, but surely my health is worth more than Vera's desire for a dog."

"Try and overcome that feeling, Margaret. Vera has grown fond of her pet. And Vera" she turned to me, "keep him out of Margaret's way for a while."

I made no answer. None was required. But I was very careful for days to keep Pom out of Margaret's way. Then once when I was out, Gloria took him down stairs.

It was dinner time when I came home and when I asked for Margaret I was told she was in bed. I hurried to her room to see if I could do anything for her. I scarcely opened her door in response to her door in response to her faint "come in" before Keith also hurried to her. The maid had told him as he came in the door that Margaret was ill and I was with her.

"What is it, Margaret?" he anxiously inquired.

"I knew it would end this way," she moaned. "I knew that I should be made ill because of that dog."

"But, Margaret, you always loved animals. You were disappointed the dog was not yours. What is wrong dear?"

"I used to love animals around but I can't endure them now. I loved Toto as you know. This dog reminds me of him, yet makes me very nervous. The doctor said I must get rid of him at once. I would not let him know that he belonged to Vera. It would seem like unkindness on her part to have kept him knowing how nervous he made me."

She had put me in the wrong as usual.

"Don't get excited, Margaret. The dog shall be kept out of your way."

"That isn't the idea! He must be taken away from the house. The doctor is quite determined upon that. He said that my nerves would straighten out only when the causes of my nervousness were removed."

"Very well. Don't excite yourself. You are making yourself feverish." He laid his hand on her head. "The dog shall be sent away at once."

I rushed from the room. Not once had I spoken. But hot anger filled my heart. I knew Margaret was shamming.
